Even though the oil prices came down during the fourth quarter of 2018, there are reports that offshore operators still plan to spend more in 2019 and move forward on project sanctioning. Oil prices recently eased after Brent touched $75 per barrel for the first time in nearly six months on the suspension of some Russian crude exports to Europe.

The offshore service market is still taking its time to accelerate. Recently we have seen a trend of rising oil prices and we are beginning to see signs of a delicate steadiness in the upstream oil and gas sector. According to Rystad Energy the outlook for offshore contractors remains strong with more than 100 new projects slated for 2019. Rystad Energy's' projection follows four consecutive years of declining revenues, but the remaining offshore contractors can expect revenues to start growing again in 2019.

Throughout the latter part of 2018 and the first two quarters of 2019 Mermaid Subsea Services has steadily won work. There is still a highly competitive pricing landscape for the company within its DSV IRM and ROV segments which is still showing depressed vessel rates. This is coupled with increased tonnage vessels and higher specification new build DP DSV's entering the market in 2019. In a bid to achieve increased vessel utilization, Mermaid continues to adapt to the current market conditions, requiring us to constantly re-examine how we execute our business. Through this continual examination, we act and think smarter.

MERMAID MARITIME PUBLIC COMPANY LIMITED (Registered in the Kingdom of Thailand)

Mermaid is focusing its efforts on offering a wider range of integrated subsea services and increasing its fleet capability by venturing into new markets in the Mediterranean, Egypt and West Africa.

Whilst we continue to focus on our core business lines, we are aggressively pursuing contracts further afield that is driving the company into a new era of subsea Installation engineering, offshore decommissioning, project & offshore construction management, cable and SURF installation service capabilities.

Cash preservation remains a top priority for the Group. The Group managed actively to enhance return from excess cash by investing in higher return yield within a limited risk and proper liquidity level, we continued to execute its cost savings program to counter the impact of the market challenging whilst aiming to maintain safety, quality and efficiency.

The Group's balance sheet remains in a strong position with a low gearing which is expected to financially help the Group during the market challenging period. We also well positioned to capitalize on opportunistic expansion if and when potential distressed assets become available for sale.

In our drilling business joint venture under Asia Offshore Drilling Limited ("AOD"), the Group's three high specification jack-up drilling rigs have performed strongly in the Middle East with full utilization during the first quarter of 2019. The existing customer contracts for these three rigs namely 'AOD I', 'AOD II' and 'AOD III', are scheduled to expire in June 2019, July 2019 and December 2019, respectively.

To date, 'AOD I' has secured a contract extension for another three (3) years with the same customer commencing from July 2019 through to June 2022, albeit at lower than current day rates. The jack-up market remains a challenging one and competition remains fierce. During this time, AOD's focus shall continue to be on retaining gainful employment for all three rigs with its existing customer into the long term and to operate all rigs at optimal levels.
